1. Applications for permission to accept and wear Medals which, not being the decoration of any Foreign Order, are conferred by a foreign Sovereign on British subjects in the Army or in the Navy for military or for naval services, should be addressed, as the case may be, to the Commander-in-Chief or the Lords of the Admiralty, who, if they see fit, may submit the same to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs for Her Majesty's sanction; upon obtaining which they may grant such permission without any other formality.

2. Any British subject is at liberty to accept and wear a Foreign Medal, not being the decoration of a Foreign Order, bestowed by competent authority for acts of bravery in saving human life. An officer, soldier, marine, or sailor must, however, first obtain permission from the Commander-in-Chief or the Lords of the Admiralty, as the case may be.

3. No permission is necessary for accepting a Foreign Medal, if such medal is not to be worn.

The requisitions should on no account reach that Officer later than the 15th February at Home Stations, or 15th August at Foreign Stations.

Cl. 11.—Instructions for Securing Lids, Stacking, and Painting Powder Cases and Cartridge Cylinders.

The following will be substituted for Sub-Section XII. of Appendix V., pages 608 and 609 of the Equipment Regulations, 1881 (Army Regulations, Vol. III.), as amended by Clause 121, Army Circulars, 1883:—

XII.—POWDER CASES AND CARTRIDGE CYLINDERS.*1.—SECURING LIDS.

313. The luting to be used for securing the lids of powder cases and cartridge cylinders will consist of equal parts of bees' wax and tallow. It will be issued from Woolwich properly mixed in metal-lined or other suitable packing cases. For naval service it will be in tin cylinders, holding 1 lb. each.

313a. The felt in strips for "cartridge cylinders, with lids having hooks," will be issued and kept in metal-lined or other suitable cases so as to preserve it from rats or mice.

313b. Luting, when used cold, will be beaten up with an ordinary wood mallet in a wooden tray until it is of the required consistency.

313c. For the preparation of hot luting the following articles are required, viz.:—

"Pot, copper, melting, for luting."

"Ladle, copper, for luting, with handle and spout."

The ladle will be used for pouring the luting into the grooves of the cartridge cylinders with lids having hooks.

314. The lids of powder cases and cartridge cylinders will be secured as follows:—

Brass Pentagon Cases.

315. Fill the circular groove on the top of the case with cold luting, insert the metal bung and tap it gently down with a wooden mallet until it is well home in the groove, fill in the recess round the bung with cold luting, and with the thumb smooth it off level with the top of the bung and rim of the groove; wipe clean round the edge with a piece of cotton waste or rag, then close the lid, turning from left to right, tighten up with the brass lever, and screw up the set screw on the curved bolt with the brass spanner.

315a. To open the case, unscrew the set screw free from the curved bolt with the brass spanner, turn the lid from right to left with the brass lever until the inclines are clear, then raise the lid and lift out the bung.

Brass Rectangular Cases, Corrugated, A to G.

316. Twist loose jute or hemp (untwisted white spun yarn is best, if available) round to a compact and uniform thickness of about one quarter of an inch, and of sufficient length to form a complete ring to fit into the circular groove on the top of the case.

316a. Thoroughly soak the twisted jute or hemp in hot luting, place it in the groove while hot, and press it down therein so as to present an even and uniform surface to receive the edge of the lid, then fill up the whole of the groove with cold luting; put on the lid, in such a position that the handles will be covered by the cross-bar, and tap it gently down with a wooden mallet until it is well home in the groove, put the cross-bar in its place, and screw down the tightening screw with the metal key.

ARMY CIRCULARS—continued.

316d. To open the case, unscrew the tightening screw with the metal key, unfasten the cross-bar and lift out the lid.

Brass Rectangular Cases, Corrugated, A, Mark I., and Plain.

317. The A, Mark I., corrugated cases, and the plain cases, which have their lids of similar construction to those of the pentagon cases, will be secured the same way as the pentagon cases (see para. 315).

317a. To open the cases, proceed as directed in para. 315a.

Brass Cylindrical Cases.

318. These cases (see § 4255, List of Changes), have the top end and the rim of the lid corrugated spirally, forming a screw of about half an inch pitch, so that the lid may be screwed on, and a recess is made round the interior of the lid in which is fitted a ring or washer of leather, soaked in ozokerine.

318a. Screw on the lid by hand from left to right, and tighten up by means of the brass lever until the leather washer bears hard upon the top edge of the case, then fasten round the junction of the case and the edge of the lid a tape band about 2 inches wide, well coated with a cement of gum shellac and methylated spirits of a workable consistency, the tape should overlap about 4 inches, and be placed so that the edges may be protected as much as possible by being in the hollows of the corrugations; work the tape well into the corrugations with the hand, and, when well set, give the tape a coating of thin shellac cement. When dry, paint it with a coat of paint.

Wood, Metal-Lined, Cases.

319. Cover the side of the bung all round flush to the bottom and the top rim with cold luting, press the bung well home into the bunghole, and fill up the recess round the rim of the bung with cold luting, then with the thumb smooth off the luting flush with the bung and case; wipe clean with a piece of cotton waste or rag, close the lid of the case and screw down alternately the two gun-metal bolts with the metal key, giving not more than one turn at a time with each bolt, so as not to strain the bolts or hinges.

319a. To open the case, unscrew alternately the two gun-metal bolts with the metal key, giving not more than one turn at a time with either bolt until both bolts are free, then raise the lid and lift out the bung.

Cartridge Cylinders, with Lids having Bayonet Joints.

320. Fill the groove in the lid with cold luting, put the lid on the cylinder and tap it gently down with a wooden mallet until it is well home, then place the cylinder bearer through the handles, and give a smart wrench in the proper direction.

320a. To open the cylinder, place the cylinder bearer through the handles, and, holding the body of the cylinder between the knees or having it held by another person, give the bearer a smart wrench in the proper direction until the bayonet joints are clear of the studs, then draw off the lid. If the lid is so firmly fixed that it cannot be removed as directed above, the straps for removing lids (see § 2173, Changes in War Material), must be used. Place one strap round the cylinder at the bottom, and the other strap (which is fitted with small pins for resting on the top) round the lid, fasten both straps very tightly by means of the thumbcrews, then place the feet on the handles of the lower strap, and unscrew with the upper strap until the bayonet joints are clear of the studs, and draw off the lid.

Cartridge Cylinders, with Lids having Hooks.

320b. Place a strip of felt about three-eighths of an inch in thickness in and round the whole of the groove in the interior of the lid, and pour over it hot luting so as to nearly fill the groove; when the luting is nearly set put the lid on the cylinder in the proper position for the hooks to meet the studs, tap it gently down with a wooden mallet till it is well home, then pass the hooks on to the studs.

320c. If felt is not available the recess must be filled up to the proper thickness, when possible, with any similar material—as wool or tow, well pressed in and uniform in thickness, so that it may bear equally all round on the top edge of the cylinder.

320d. To open the cylinder, remove the hooks from the studs and draw off the lid.

320e. Labels bearing the above directions are pasted on the lids of each cylinder.

Cartridge Cylinders, with Screwed Lids.

321. Screw on the lid by hand from left to right until the leather washer bears hard upon the top edge of the cylinder, then fasten round the junction of the cylinder and the edge of the lid a tape band about two inches wide, well coated with a cement of gum shellac and methylated spirits of a workable consistency; the tape should overlap about four inches, and be placed so that the edges may be protected as much as possible by being in the hollows of the corrugations; work the tape well into the corrugations with the hand, and when well set, give the band a coating of thin shellac; when dry, give it a coat of paint.

321a. In order to open the cylinder tear off the tape band and pass the cylinder bearer through the handles, and then give a smart wrench in the required direction.

321b. Labels bearing the above directions are pasted on the lids of each cylinder.

321c. The quantity of material required for securing 100 cases or cartridge cylinders is as follows:—

321d. When cartridge cylinders containing cartridges are stored lying on their sides, the number of in each stack will be limited as follows:—

12 5/8-inch not to exceed 3 in depth.
12 or 11-inch " 3 "
9 and 10-inch " 4 "
7-inch " 5 "

321e. When stacked on their ends, thin battens of wood will be placed on them to prevent the injuring the bottoms of those packed over them. These battens are not absolutely necessary for with screwed lids.

3.—PAINTING.

321f. The whole surface, exterior and interior, of zinc cylinders for cartridges, with the exception of parts which are in contact when the lid is closed, will be painted a stone colour.

321g. The paint used will be composed of the following ingredients:—

Lead, white	...	...	...	28 lbs.

321h. Each cylinder will have two coats of paint in the proportions laid down in Table I., page 183.

321i. When once painted, cylinders will not be painted again until they actually require it. They depend upon climate and other circumstances.

321j. Cylinders with screwed lids have the parts of the body and lid which come in contact left unpainted. When the band is fixed, any parts of the cylinder left exposed, as well as the band itself, are painted with one coat of drab paint.

321k. Brass pentagon, rectangular, and cylindrical cases, are painted with two coats of drab paint, and outside, the cylindrical cases being treated the same as cylinders with screwed lids (see para. 321i).

321l. Wood metal-lined cases are painted with three coats of drab paint outside and one coat inside, inside of the lid is not painted.

Instructions with regard to the employment of Morris's Aiming Tubes in Government rifles have been approved, and will be issued to officers and others concerned.

G.O. 2.—Royal Artillery Organization.

(Specially issued, 22nd December 1883.)

Referring to G.O. 72 of 1882, the following alterations in the organization of the Royal Artillery have been approved, with effect from the 1st April 1884:—

I. In addition to the depôts for Horse Artillery, and for each territorial division, as now existing, four Field Artillery depôts (one for each brigade) are to be formed for the purpose of receiving and training recruits.

II. Paras. X. and XI. of the G.O. quoted above are hereby cancelled, and all drafts for batteries of Horse Field, and Garrison Artillery serving abroad will for the future be trained at the depôts, and despatched thence, and not from the service batteries at home as at present.

III. The new field depôts will be designated and stationed as follows, and each will consist of the establishment laid down in Army Circulars:—

1st Brigade Depôt to be stationed at	Newcastle.
2nd " " " "	Colchester.

V. Recruits, on enlistment in the several territorial districts (except where enlisted by a battery to complete its own establishment), are to be posted at once to the territorial (garrison) or affiliated Field Artillery depot according as they fulfil the prescribed physical conditions.

VI. As depot batteries are formed solely for the training and instruction of recruits, they are not to be called upon to take part in field days, except on special occasions.

VII. Recruits are not to be posted to service batteries until they have passed their drills, and when posted, are not, except on emergency, to be transferred to any other battery without their own consent and previous reference to head-quarters if at home, to the Commander-in-Chief of the Presidency if in India, and to the general officer commanding at other stations abroad.

The object being to make every recruit feel that so long as a soldier conducts himself properly, nothing but the urgency of service or his own conduct will lead to his transfer from the service battery to which he was originally posted.

G.O. 3.—Depôts.

(Specially issued, 22nd December 1883.)

I. In order to ensure greater uniformity of system at regimental depôts, the depot companies of line battalions will, from 1st January 1884, be lettered A, B, C, D; and all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men then with, or who may join the depot, will be posted to companies irrespective of the battalions from which they came, so as to form only one depot.

II. It is essential that all officers and non-commissioned officers detailed for duty at the depot should be selected for their special qualifications for dealing with recruits and young soldiers, and no trained soldiers of bad or indifferent characters are to be sent to do duty at the depot.

III. Officers commanding must live at the head-quarters of the regimental district, and will be held strictly responsible for everything connected with the discipline, and interior economy of the regimental depot.

IV. For purposes of promotion one general roll will be kept of all non-commissioned officers serving with the regimental depot and home battalion. On the depot roll the names of all non-commissioned officers with the home battalion according to their seniority will be entered in red ink; and similarly all depot non-commissioned officers will be inserted in red ink on the home battalion roll. The interests of the depot and home battalion non-commissioned officers will be thus protected, as well as the efficiency of the service; for no depot or battalion non-commissioned officer will be promoted or passed over without the mutual concurrence of the officers commanding the regimental depot and the home battalion. Should any difference of opinion arise between these officers, the question will be referred by the officer commanding the depot to the general officer commanding the district, whose decision will be final. This will not prevent commanding officers appointing unpaid lance-sergeants and lance-corporals, without referring to each other.

V. When promotions are made above the rank of sergeant the interests of non-commissioned officers serving with the foreign battalion must be considered, so that they may have a fair share of promotion to the higher grades at the depot. With this view officers commanding battalions abroad will, at the end of each quarter, transmit to the officer commanding the regimental depot the names of any non-commissioned officers whom they may wish to recommend for promotion to vacancies existing in the establishment of the depot for colour-sergeant, quarter-master-sergeant, or warrant rank.

When both battalions of a regiment are abroad, the officers commanding and the officer commanding the regimental district must exercise their discretion in respect to the promotion of non-commissioned officers, taking care that the establishment is in no way exceeded.

VI. Non-commissioned officers sent home from the foreign battalion for discharge or transfer to the Reserve will remain on the establishment of the foreign battalion until so discharged or transferred. Non-commissioned officers sent home as invalids and not discharged will be absorbed on the establishment of the depot or home battalion, and the vacancy in the foreign battalion will not be filled up until such absorption takes place.

VII. All recruits, except those enlisted at battalion head-quarters, will be sent to the depot, to be trained; and, when accommodation admits, they will be kept there for three months and then sent in batches to join the home battalion in accordance with G.O. 50 of 1883.

VIII. During the recruit's stay at the depot he is to be thoroughly instructed in Part I. of the Field Exercises, in the Manual and Firing Exercises, and, where facilities admit, he must go through the recruit's course of musketry. But where there are no rifle ranges available, the recruits should, after ten weeks' training, be sent to the home battalion, where, as soon as practicable, their course of musketry practice must be carried out.

IX. Depot recruits, on joining the home battalion, should be sufficiently advanced in drill to take their places with their companies for instruction under the company officer. Whenever, after the prescribed period, a recruit, from sickness, absence, or any other cause, is not sufficiently instructed to join the home battalion, he will be retained at the depot. A special report of all recruits so retained over three months will be forwarded to the Adjutant-General with the monthly returns.

X. As a general rule, sergeants of long service should be selected for duty at regimental depôts.

XI. Invalids sent home from the foreign battalion who are reported fit for service will join the home battalion. Invalids for discharge, and soldiers sent home on completion of their period of service with the Colours, will be treated of as may be directed by the Adjutant-General.

XII. Paras. 10, 11, 13, and the last seven lines in para. 14 of Sec. XVIII. of "The Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army, 1883," are hereby cancelled, and in para. 8 of that section the last two lines will be amended as follows:—

"when it happens that both the Major and Captain at the depot are married."

G.O. 4.—Deserters.

(Specially issued, 22nd December 1883.)

On and after the 1st January 1884 the address of the Editor of the Police Gazette will be—

Great Scotland Yard,
London, S. W.

Para. 126, Sec. VI., para. 190, Sec. XIX., "Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army, 1883," and para. 231, Militia Regulations, 1883, will be amended accordingly.

• Para. XII. of the Special issue is now embodied in Para. V.

The Field-Marshal Commanding in Chief holds commanding officers responsible that the notification forwarded for publication in the Police Gazette contains an accurate description of the man at the date of desertion, as well as full particulars of marks, scars, or other details likely to assist in identifying the individual.

G.O. 5.—Section D.—First Class Army Reserve.

In pursuance of the Royal Warrant dated 21st March 1883, Clause 62, Army Circulars, 1883, constituting Supplemental Army Reserve, the following regulations will be observed:—

Composition.

I. Section D (or Supplemental Reserve) of First Class Army Reserve will be composed of men who have completed their first period of limited engagement, who obtain at least a "good" character on leaving the Colours and who retain it during service, if any, in Section B.

Term of Service.

II. The term of service will be four years, and will commence the day after discharge from the Colours from Section B of the First Class Army Reserve.

Enlistment.

III. A man will be attested for Section D on Army Form D 459.

IV. A man belonging to Section B may be attested at any time within the six months immediately preceding his discharge; but he will continue liable to the conditions of service under Section B until he shall have completed the period of his engagement in that section. A man serving with the Colours may be attested at any time within the fortnight immediately preceding his discharge.

V. If in Section B, he will attend at the headquarters of the Regimental or Pension District to which he belongs, and will be attested by any qualified officer. If with the Colours, he will be attested by his commanding officer.

Re-engagement.

VI. Men will not be allowed to re-engage in Section D.

Medical Examination.

VII. Each man, before enlistment to Section D, will be medically examined as to his fitness for service. The examination will be made by a military Medical Officer, on full or half-pay, or by a Militia Surgeon; if such officer is available, by a private medical practitioner.

Discharge from Army Engagement.

VIII. The enlistment of a man in Section D will make no difference in the steps which are taken to discharge him from the Army on the expiration of his first period of service, except—

- (a.) A note of the enlistment into Section D will be made on the fourth page of the duplicate (Army) Attestation by the officer who enlists the man into Section D.
- (b.) The above-named officer will at once communicate the fact of the enlistment to the officer in charge of the Attestation (Army), with a view to the latter officer making a similar note on that document.
- (c.) The officer who enlists a man for Section D will make a note of the fact in red ink on the back of the Parchment Discharge Certificate as follows:—

"Enlisted for Section D, on _____ for four years, from _____."

Date _____

Signature _____

Numbering.

IX. A man enlisted into Section D will retain the number that he had when serving on his Army engagement with Section D added thereto, thus—

Parchment Discharge Certificate to Man discharged from Colours.

X. A man discharged from the Colours, who has enlisted for Section D, will, on discharge from his engagement, be furnished with the usual Parchment Discharge Certificate on Army Form B 123 (the entry of his enlistment in Section D having been made as described in para. VIII. (c.)), and will be directed to sign it himself either personally or by letter to the officer charged with the payment of the Army Reserve in the district in which he intends to reside. The address of this officer should be given to the man before he leaves his engagement. If he reports himself by letter he should at the same time state his place of residence.

Parchment Discharge Certificate to Man discharged from Section B.

XI. A man discharged from Section B, who has enlisted for Section D, will, on discharge from his engagement, receive his Parchment Discharge Certificate on Army Form B 123 (the entry of his enlistment in Section D having been made as directed in para. VIII. (c.)).

Custody of Documents.

XII. The attestations for Section D will be kept by the officer charged with the payment of the men. Record of Service on the Attestation for Section D will be carefully filled up, and the entries verified by officer, who will also certify to the correctness of the Record when the man's removal to another district renders it necessary that his documents should be transferred to the paying officer of such district.

XIII. Discharges from Section D will be confirmed by the general officer commanding, and the documents transmitted to the Adjutant-General, the names being inserted in the Weekly List (Army Form B 99 or C 380) in the same way as those of men discharged from the Army.

XIV. A Parchment Discharge Certificate will be given to men discharged from Section D, in which no allusion will be made to the man's previous Army service.

XV. It should be clearly explained to men, on enrolment for Section D, that, should this reserve be called out for Army service, their Reserve service in Section D, combined with their Army service, will not entitle them to pension, unless they be invalided in and by this said Army service.

XVI. As soon as Army Form D 459 (attestation for Section D) is printed it will be distributed.

G.O. 6.—Farriery.

The following will be added to para. 126, Sec. VII., "Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army, 1883"—
In the selection of farriers and shoeing-smiths for the appointment of farrier-major and farrier-sergeant, preference should be given to men holding a Veterinary School Certificate, provided they are otherwise eligible; and in the event of a soldier being appointed who is not in possession of a certificate, advantage should be taken of the first convenient opportunity to send him, if his regiment is quartered in the United Kingdom, to the Army Veterinary School.

G.O. 7.—Good-Conduct Medals.

I. The non-commissioned officers and men named in the accompanying list (see Appendix) have been awarded silver medals for "Long Service and Good Conduct," under the provisions of Arts. 902 to 907 of the Royal Warrant of 11th March 1882 (Army Regulations, Vol. I.).

II. The non-commissioned officer named in this list, who became a Warrant Officer from 1st July 1881, under Art. 517 of the above-quoted Warrant, has been specially included, as he is deemed to have become eligible for this award before the date on which he became a Warrant Officer.

III. Erratum in Appendix to G.O. 152 of 1883, page 189:—

For "Grenadier Guards, 2297 Private A. Ellis," read "Grenadier Guards, 2297 Musician A. Ellis."
